

Confidential Counselling Support Service

The journey through Fertility Treatment can prove a lengthy and sometimes difficult experience, at a time when couples are already feeling emotionally under strain. The Counselling service is available at any stage of your contact with the unit.

You may find it helpful to talk in a non-medical way with our counsellor. This will give you an opportunity to 'air & share'; to face your hopes, concerns and fears and prepare you both for what is ahead during treatment or tests. Any medical matters or problems should be discussed with the nursing, scientific or medical staff.

Clients considering donor programmes of assisted conception will find the support offered in considering the wider social, emotional and legal implications of these treatments very helpful, this is also required under the HFEA regulations.

The counsellor will provide a safe space in which you can explore the stresses you are experiencing and help you to find ways of managing this more easily.

Counselling sessions have proven worth often enabling you to say those things to each other, in a supportive setting that you may not have had the chance to do. They can also strengthen that 'team approach', which is so necessary at this time.

Individuals are also welcome, if you would like to explore issues and feelings in your own space.

If you would like to book an appointment, please contact the fertility receptionist on 01743 261000, ext. 3790.

Please note that if you are a self funded or private patient we offer the first support counselling session for free, thereafter there is a charge of £44 per session. We also offer one free counselling appointment if you have a negative result from your treatment and one more again in the future if you have embryos that you are considering discarding. Mandatory implications counselling is always chargeable.
